TO PROTECT ROBINS

All lovers of nature will be interested to know that the robin and other birds in all probability will be protected by law. A bill now before the legislature, which has already passed the Senate, provides among other things as follows:

"Every person who, in the State of California, shall at any time, hurt, shoot at, pursue, take, kill, or destroy, buy, sell or give away or have in his possession, except upon a written permit from the Board of Fish Commissioners of the State of California, for the purpose of propagation or for education or for scientific purposes, any meadow lark, robin, or any wild bird, living or dead, or any part of any dead wild bird, or who shall rob the nest or take, sell or offer for sale or destroy the eggs of any meadow lark, robin, or of any wild bird, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that nothing in this section shall prohibit the killing of meadow lark, robin, or wild bird by owner or tenant of any premises where such bird is found destroying berries, fruit, or crops growing on such premises but the birds so killed shall not be shipped or sold. The English sparrow, sharp shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, duck, hawk, great horned owl, bluejay, butcherbird, house finch, known as the California linnet, wild pigeon, all fish eating birds, except sea gulls and the blue and white crane or heron, and all birds otherwise protected by the provisions of this code, are not included among the birds protected by this section."

TO MEET IN MAY

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Sonoma-Napa District Endeavor Union held recently, it was decided to hold the Petaluma convention on May 3, 4 and 5. The program is composed of Mrs. M. H. Reeves, L. E. Schieffer and J. Frederick McMinn. The State Executive Committee will be invited to meet in Napa in March. Other matters for the good of the order were discussed at the meeting. Mrs. M. H. Reeves is the President of the Sonoma-Napa Union.

Follows Petaluma Meet

Thursday—Two year old trot; 2:16 pace; $800; three year old pace.

Friday—Two year old pace; three year old trot; 2:08 pace, $1,000.

The meeting is be held at Santa Rosa, follows Petaluma, on the newly organized California circuit.

LOST BOYS FOUND

Some time ago, J. M. De Silva passed through Sonoma looking for his two boys, Frank and Joe, who left their home in Los Banos nearly two months ago. Word has been received that the boys had been located working on a ranch near Santa Rosa and that the happy father had gone and took them home. Although the boys were not prodigals the fatted calf was annihilated just the same.

It all Depends.

A "subscriber" once wrote to an editor and asked: "Please tell me, does a man, in running around a tree, go before or behind himself?"

The editor answered:

"That depends. If he is trying to catch himself, necessarily he follows himself, and consequently goes behind. If on the contrary, he is running away from himself, the deduction leads to the very obvious conclusion that he precedes himself, and consequently goes before. If he succeeds in catching up with himself and passes himself, at the moment of passing he neither preceeds nor follows himself, but both he and himself are running even. This is the only case where he does not go before or behind himself.—Ex.

NEW ELECTION LAW

The law providing for nomination by direct primary, thus doing away with nominating conventions has passed both houses of the legislature. The law before it becomes effective, must be carried by popular vote in the form of a constitutional amendment.

A WRECKED FIGHTER

Geo. D. Collins, of legal entanglements notoriety, stated in a San Francisco court that he was a physical wreck, such condition being brought about by his long confinement in jail, etc.

Well, he could have accepted the verdict of guilty and have gone across the bay long ago, where there is a nice quiet free boarding place, but it seems he chose to make a long technical fight, with the result as above stated.

Our Glorious Fourth

Sonoma should not let Independence Day pass this year without a rousing celebration. It has been sometime since the national anniversary has been thus fittingly observed By the time that day rolls around our new city hall will have been completed and what would be more appropriate than to dedicate it on that day.

Let us get together and make the event one of the greatest ever held in the historic town; let us make July 4, 1907, a great day, marking the beginning of a new era in the growth and progress of our prosperous community.

By all means let's celebrate!

From $200 to $7000

Few people realize the great proportions to which the poultry business in Sonoma valley has grown in the past few years. A conservative estimate obtained from dealers and poultrymen who have been in the business in the valley for years, places the value of egg and poultry industry here five years ago at $200 per month. By the most conservative method of estimating the income from this industry in Sonoma valley now is not less than $7000 per month.

There's a reason; in fact several reasons. A few we can enumerate are:

1 The mild and equable climate of our valley is extremely favorable to the successful raising of poultry.

2 The soil is not cold, damp and heavy which is also to the advantage of the poultryman.

3 Poultry supplies, feed, etc., can be obtained at the prevailing rates.

4 We are close to market.

5 Our shipping facilities are good and the rates as low in proportion as any other place in the state.

6 There is no better place in the state to live and enjoy life than right here in good old Sonoma valley and poultrymen as well as any folks like a nice, healthful place to make a home.

HIGH SCHOOL LAWS

At the last bi-ennial convention of county superintendents, a number of new features of high school laws were recommended for enactment. Some of these provisions have been favorably received by the Committee on Education and will probably be passed at this session of the Legislature. Some of the more important changes are recorded below.

1. That section 1617 be amended so as to provide that Boards of Education and Boards of Trustees shall elect teachers on or before the last day of the school term preceding June 30, and if no election of teachers is held at the time stated, then all the teachers under the employ of the Board at the close of the school term shall be re-employed for the ensuing year. Unless a teacher who is re elected declines the same within two weeks after the close of the term he is bound to the Board for the term for which he is elected.

2. That the State High School Tax be raised to thirty dollars per unit of average daily attendance and do away with tuition, and provide that each high school must receive pupils from districts not having a high school as long as the high school has room for such pupils.

3 That the government of Union and Joint Union High School Districts be changed to a board of three members elected at large at a general election.

4 (Recommendation) We recommend that after July 1st, 1909, all territory must be in some High School District.

A SHOCKING DEATH

Guiseppe Battaglia met with a shocking death some time Tuesday in his cabin in the hills near Melitta. His head, arm and chest were shattered by dynamite. An inquest was held on Wednesday afternoon and the jury found that the deceased came to his death as the result of the accidential discharge of dynamite.

The deceased was a relitlve of A Pinelli, of Sonoma. Mr. Pinelli and Mr. S. Cuicci attened the inquest. The remains will be brought here and interred in the Mountain cemetery. Funeral services will be held at St. Francis church, Sunday afternoon, at 1 o'clock.

PLANS ADOPTED

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Sonoma Valley Union High School, held in this city Wednesday morning, plans for a two story wooden building built on the old high school building, were adopted. The plans were drawn by A. E. Warriner of this city.

The architects employed by the Board would not guarantee the safety of the building if repaired, so the trustees took what they considered the safest course; that is to tear down the old building, which was injured by the quake, and to erect thereon a two story wooden structure, suitable for school purpose. One of the trustees, on his own account, offered a prize of $5 to the pupils of the school, for the best design and plan for a one story school building, Mission style. Three young ladies competed by submitting such plans. The Board by request acted as judges in the matter and awarded the $5 prize to Miss Trowbridge of Glen Ellen.

The estimated cost of the new school house is about $7000.

To Celebrate Arbor Day

The Woman's Improvement Club of Glen Ellen are making arrangements to celebrate Burbank's birthday, March 7th as Arbor Day. The children from the Dunbar school are invited to join the Glen Ellen school at May Flower Hall where after the ceremonies of tree planting, the club members will serve refreshments to the children, thus making it a festival to be remembered and impressing upon their youthful minds the utillty of tree culture. All are invited to participate on Thursday, March 7th at 3 p. m.

Plant Forfeited

At their meeting Thursday evening the Board of Supervisors, by resolution, declared the Spring Valley Water Company's Water Works, plant and franchise to have forfeited and escheated to the people of San Francisco, for having violated the law by charging a different rate from that set by the Board. It is claimed that the company has been charging the rates that were adopted in 1902, instead of those passed in 1906. The constitution provides that in case of violation of the law the franchise and water works shall be forfeited.

The action of the Supervisors occasioned no little excitement.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

This morning about 10 o'clock, A. W. Higgins, of Oakland, a Southern Pacific linesman, met with a very painful accident and had an almost miraculous escape from death There was some trouble on the line and he had mounted a pole in front of St. Francis Church, and not having been warned, supposed the pole carried only Western Union wires, and grasped with his bare hands the wires belonging to the Sonoma Valley Company, which carry about 2300 volts. The shock threw him to the ground. Both of the unfortunate mans hands are very severely burned by the contact and he is suffering from other injuries caused by the fall.

No one witnessed the accident and he must have laid on the ground for some time before he was discovered by Mr. Serres, who picked him up and took him to the City Hotel, where medical attendance was summoned to attend him. It will be sometime before he will recover use of his hands.

COLONIAL BALL

One of the most delightful and successful social events that ever took place in Glen Ellen, was the Colonial Ball given last Friday night under the auspices of the Woman's Improvement Club of that place. Mervyn Hall was tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion, Geo. Washington, the central figure, in nature cherry trees, hatchets and evergreens, formed the cleverly executed decorative scheme. About 150 guests were present in colonial costumes. Dancing was enjoyed until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

The midnight supper furnished by Mine Host and Mrs. Monahan, was a pleasing feature of the evening's entertainment.

GOT HIS MAN

Acting on instruction from Sheriff John K. Smith, Deputy Sheriff Jos. F. Ryan of this city, boarded the S. P. down train Sunday evening and captured a man named Alberton, wanted in Santa Rosa on a charge of cruelty to animals. He took the prisoner to the county jail Monday morning. Later in the day the man was brought before Judge Atchinson and fined $25 and $10 costs.

The next time the culprit hires a horse for a ride, he will probably not drive it to death. The rig in question belonged to Allen Bryant of Santa Rosa.

GRAND OPENING

The grand opening of Lawrence Villa last Saturday evening was a big success in every way. About 150 guests were present, forty of of whom were from the bay city.

The generous hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Pellissier was heartily enjoyed by all present. The spread and the fine music by the Mare Island Band, were features of the evening's pleasures. Dancing in the new hall was indulged in until the early hours of the morning.

A CURIOSITY

Wm. V. Chase of this place is exhibiting a gold dollar piece coined by Uncle Sam in 1853. The coin was found in the attic of the old Chase home on Second St. East, upon removing an old bureau that had stood there unused for several years. Several times its value has been offered for the coin but Mr. Chase figures on keeping the gold piece thereby avoiding the unpleasant condition of ever being "broke."

H. S. Entertainment

The following pleasing program was heard at the high school entertainment last week in honor of Washington's Birthday:

Song—School.
Life of Washington—Otto Dresel
Reading—Olive Trowbridge.
Vocal solo—Laura Fussell.
Recitation—Marorie Buchan.

BUSYBODIES VS. TRUTH.

Here Are The Facts—Judge For Yourself.

Busybodies who see in success only falsity, who, without making an effort to inform themselves, blatantly cry offense against honesty and truth—seem to forget that a slur against Dr. Pierce's well-known non-alcoholic family remedies is a slur against the intelligence of thousands of clear-thinking American women who know they have been helped and cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is not a "patent medicine" in any sense—it is simply the favorite remedy which Dr. Pierce used in an extended practice for the treatment of the diseases peculiar to women.

Truth and Influence. A name for honesty and square dealing is better than great riches. Fraud is a bubble that soon bursts. Dr. R. V. Pierce has always been known to speak the truth—his famous medicines are founded on the rock of public approval and have thousands of truthful testimonials as to their ability to cure diseases for which they are recommended.

True Speaking. No man ever lost a prospective customer through telling the truth. In the long run Dr. Pierce believes the truth will prevail and he is therefore not afraid to make public his formula.

Valuable Trade Secrets. The ingredients of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription are given to the public. He vindicates the excellence and [illegible] character of his "Favorite Prescription" for ailing women by telling them they are taking when they use this reliable tonic and nervine for the diseases and illnesses peculiarly feminine. These ingredients are combined in just the right proportion to make an efficient remedy, without the use of a particle of alcohol, and they are as follows: Golden Seal root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root, Lady's Slipper root, with chemically pure glycerine of proper strength for extracting and preserving the active medicinal principles residing in the above native roots.

No Alcohol Used. Dr. Pierce never believed it necessary or advisable to use alcohol in the preparation of either his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women, or his "Golden Medical Discovery," the well-known alterative tonic, which is so largely used as a remedy for indigestion, torpid liver, bad blood and kindred ailments. Over forty years ago, he discovered that chemically pure glycerine is a far better solvent of most of the active principles residing in our native medicinal plants when used at a proper and sustained temperature than is alcohol; and, furthermore, he found that a glyceric extract kept much better than an alcoholic one, and that the glycerine possessed intrinsic remedial value, being demulcent, nutritive and an effective anti-ferment. Although costing somewhat more, Dr. Pierce predicts that glyceric medicinal extracts will, in the not distant future, largely replace alcoholic ones so generally prescribed by physicians and put out by proprietary or "patent medicine" manufacturers, as being more efficient and entirely free from the serious objection of making inebriates when used in lingering or chronic cases, where a somewhat protracted use of medicine is necessary no matter how good or well adapted to the case it may be in order to obtain permanent results.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. When the "Favorite Prescription" is not quite laxative enough, as in obstinate constipation, the little, pleasant, sugar-coated "Pellets" should be taken to aid the "Prescription." One or two for a laxative, two to four for a cathartic. They alone have been known to cure many bad cases of stomach trouble, dyspepsia and indigestion. They act on the liver and regulate the bowels. Put up in glass vials, corked, therefore, always fresh and reliable.

DISAPPOINTED

From old historic Sonoma, a large number of sports departed via Granville Harris' bus, to Petaluma, with the expectation of seeing a pugilistic encounter. They were gay and happy for did they not only have with them the champion of old Sonoma, but it was on the bills that the main event was to be a most sanguinary affair. So they cheerfully put up the price of two bucks each for reserved seats near the ring where every detail could be seen and prepared to see a battle royal.

The first preliminaries was a lively go between young Sharkey and Geo. Moore, and they both showed up well. They boxed six lively rounds when the contest was declared a draw. Then came the bout between Cornelius of Sonoma and Hornbuckle. It consisted of a handshake, two or three blows and—23 for Sonoma's champion, time, 15 seconds.

The main event, which was to be a twenty-round go, between Eddie Burns and young King, was next in order and the spectators settled themselves for a lively contest, but ere half of the first round was fought, King was down and out, and the referee declared all bets off.

So it was a dejected lot of sports that traveled back during the midnight hours through the mud to old Sonoma.

The Vital Point

To consider when buying a heater is the draft. Exhaustive tests prove that the down-draft as it is developed in the celebrated is the only form that insures perfect combustion at a minimum of fuel expense. Furnishes twice the heat from half the amount of fuel used, because all gas generated is burned. In other heaters it escapes into the chimney.

Consider this fuel economy in buying.

$8.50 PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRES ONLY $4.80 PER PAIR

Regular Price $8.50 per pair. To Introduce We Will Sell You a Sample Pair for Only $4.80 (CASH WITH ORDER $4.85)

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES. Result of 15 years experience in tire making. No danger from THORNS, CACTUS, PINS, NAILS, TACKS or GLASS. Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire.

Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "C," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SO FT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "Holding Back" sensation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming that objection. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.56 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. A BALL OF FIRE.

Pranks of a Thunderbolt In a House in Paris.

Camille Flammarion in his book "Thunder and Lightning" describes some of the phenomena of electrical storms. Of the actions of a ball of fire in Paris he says: "It was in the Rue St. Jacques, near the Val de Grace. The fire ball burst into the room from the chimney, knocking over the paper guard in front of the fireplace. In appearance it suggested a young cat gathered up in a ball, as it were, and moving along without using its paws. It approached the tailor's legs as if to play with them. The tailor moved them away to avoid the contact, of which he naturally was in terror.

"After some seconds the globe of fire rose vertically to the height of the man's face as he sat, and he to save himself leaned quickly back and fell over. The fire ball continued to rise and made its way toward a hole which had been made at the top of the chimney for the insertion of a stovepipe in the winter, but which, as the tailor put it afterward, 'the fire ball couldn't see,' because it was closed up with paper.

"The ball stripped off the paper neatly, entered the chimney quite quietly and, having risen to the summit, produced a tremendous explosion, which sent the chimney pot flying and scattered it in bits all over the neighboring courtyard and surrounding roofs."

LIFE'S LITTLE THINGS.

They Go a Very Long Way Toward Making the World Happy.

A wild bird's song is a little thing—lost in the deeps of a frowning sky.

And yet as it falls on a listening ear and leaves its message of melody earth's green seems brighter and life is sweeter all through an autumn day.

The coo of a babe is a little thing—meaningless sound from a vacant mind.

But 'tis the only sound that all nations heed—the one clear language that all races know.

A mother's love is a little thing—too soon, alas, forgot!

But it typifies to blind humankind the love and trust and hope divine that bear with patience calm and sweet the willful wrongs in these lives of ours.

A passing smile is a little thing—lost in a world of toil and care.

And yet the soul with gloom oppressed and the life grown wearied with burdens hard will happier be in the afterglow of a smile that is warmly kind.

A kindly word is a little thing—a breath that goes and a sound that dies.

But the heart that gives and the heart that hears may know that it sings and sings and sings till at last it blends with the wild bird's song and the coo of babes in what men call the celestial choir.—Milwaukee Journal.

Lessons For Schoolboys.

There is no question that our forefathers supposed that benefit might be derived from causing schoolboys to be spectators of the hangings of criminals. Sir Walter Scott has borne testimony to this custom being not unknown in Scotland. In "The Heart of Midlothian" Mr. Saddletree is represented as saying:

I promised to ask a half play day to the schule so that the bairns might gang and see the hanging, which canna but have a pleasing effect on their young minds, seeing there is no knowing what they may come to themselves.—Chapter 23.

Sir Walter would not, we may assume, have written the above had he not known that such things had actually taken place.—London Notes and Queries.

The Sea Otter.

The sea otter is nearly twice the size of the common river otter, and the fur, without finishing or preparation of any kind, is more beautiful as it is stripped from the animal than the richest sealskin, which has to be scraped, plucked of the long upper hairs and then dyed before it could be recognized as the beautiful object which the finished fur undoubtedly is. In the sea otter's fur the soft undercoat, the true fur, is as thick as that of the seal and nearly twice as long, while the long outer hairs are as soft as a sable's tail and often a pale gray, which gives to the whole coat an appearance as of dark fur slightly frosted over.

Bird Confidence.

Mr. Bell's aviary presented a pretty evidence of mutual confidence among birds. A pair of Java sparrows lived in a compartment with a "bleeding heart" pigeon. The latter fell in love with them and at night always cuddled a sparrow under each wing. When seen by the light of a lantern the pigeon seemed to be cuddling two babies, one under each wing, from which the cheerful countenances of the little sparrows looked with blinking eyes.—London Spectator.

His Definition.

A teacher in a certain school asked for the definition of a furrier. A hand was raised. "Well, John, you tell us what a furrier is." "A man who deals in furs," correctly replied the pupil. Then, turning to another scholar, the teacher asked for the definition of a currier. "A man who deals in curs," was the unexpected reply of the eager boy.

All In the Bill.

"I'm afraid," said the junior member of the law firm, "that we are causing our client unnecessary trouble."

"Oh, that's all right," rejoined the senior member. "We'll charge him for it."—Chicago News.

Good Old Remedy.

"How did you cure your boy of swearing?"

"By the laying on of hands, principally."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Her Namesake.

When Mrs. Lombard heard that the baby of her former cook had been named for her she bought a suitable rattle with many jingling bells and went to see her namesake.

"Why, Bridget," she said to the late Miss Leahy, now Mrs. O'Sullivan, "I thought you said the baby was named for me. My name is Hannah, and you are calling the baby Celestine."

"Celestine L., ma'am," said Mrs. O'Sullivan hastily. "The 'L' is for Lombard, and Celestine is just a koind of a name to describe you, ma'am. There ain't anny Hannah to your looks, Mrs. Lombard; anny wan would tell you that."—Youth's Companion.

Denver's First Stagecoach.

On the 17th of May, 1859, Denver turned out to welcome the first through coach of what was destined to grow into the "Overland Mail," an enterprise which for sheer American pluck and daring must be forever linked with the fame of the "Pony Express." Red shirts drifted to the outskirts of the hamlet and dotted the hills around. Hard faced bartenders made ready for the "hottest night that ever tore the camp loose." The artillery of holster and saddle boot was unlimbered for an ecstatic fusillade. There was lively betting in dust and nuggets that the first through stage had been gathered in by Indians, with takers as eager to stake their faith that the scalps of driver and guard would come through intact. At length a swirl of dust showed far down the trail. It grew into a yellow cloud that crept toward the eager hamlet. Then six mules, stretched out on the gallop, emerged from this curtain, and behind them was the lumbering, swaying stage, come safely through on time, and Denver was in touch with the world where men wore white shirts and lived in real houses. The cheers that roared a welcome to this heroic enterprise were echoed in every western town which hoped and longed for a link of its own with the home country, "way back east."—Outing Magazine.

The White Burman.

In the [illegible] Burma, where the [illegible] in contact with Europeans, says the author of "Burma, Painted and Described," they have lost some of their traditional politeness, but in the country districts old school courtesy is still the custom. An English gentleman who had bought a new pony was trying him out on a Burman road when the animal bolted and ran at top speed down a narrow road. In the way ahead was a native cart, in which was a family party out holiday making. The pony dashed into the back of the cart, threw his rider into the midst of the merrymakers and severely injured the Burman who was driving. Before the Englishman had an opportunity to explain his unexpected onslaught the Burman picked himself up and bowed low. "My lord, my lord," he said apologetically, "the cart should not have been there."

Inherited Memories.

A writer in the Nineteenth Century tells a strange story of "inherited memories." The ruins of an ancient Roman fortress rise from the grounds of a Mr. Phillips. A clergyman called upon the owner one day and asked to see the ruins. "He told me he had a distinct recollection of living there and that he held some office of a priestly nature in the days of the Roman occupation," said Mr. Phillips. "One fact struck me as significant. He insisted on examining a ruined tower which had bodily overturned. 'There used to be a socket in the top of it,' he went on, 'in which we used to plant a mast, and archers used to be hauled to the top in a basket protected with leather, from which they picked off the leaders among the ancient Carlestonians.' We found the socket he had indicated."

When Paris Was Dirty.

It takes the labors of 4,000 to keep the city of Paris clean today, but in times past the capital did not care so much about the matter and was not always pleasing to look upon. In 1345 King John of France made the request that Parisians should not allow their pigs to roam the streets. Charles VI (1368-1422) complained that the practice of throwing rubbish into the Seine made it a "great horror and an abomination to look upon." Until the seventeenth century everybody who could went about Paris on horseback in order to avoid contact with the filth of the streets. Various ordinances were made to compel the people to sweep the road before their own doors, but it was not until 1791 that the dust cart became an institution.

A Lullaby.

Magistrate—You are accused of attempting to hold a pedestrian up at 2 o'clock this morning. What have you to say in your own behalf?

Prisoner—I am not guilty, your honor. I can prove a lullaby.

Magistrate—You mean an alibi.

Prisoner—Well, call it what you like, but my wife will swear that I was walking the floor with the baby at the hour mentioned in the charge.—Chicago News.

Ibsen on Friendship.

Friends are a costly luxury, and when one invests one's capital in a mission in life one cannot afford to have friends. The expensiveness of friendship does not lie in what one does for one's friends, but in what one, out of regard for them, leaves undone. This means the crushing of many an intellectual germ.—From a Letter to George Brandes.

Just Like Him.

Arthur—You think I don't love you, darling? Why, I would die for you. Arethusa—Yes, and it would be just like you to do it so that your funeral would come on a day when I had to give up a real nice engagement to attend it. Oh, you men are so selfish!

Sad.

First Baby—You look sad.

Second Baby—I am. I feel keenly the responsibility of having parents who cannot afford to have me.—Smart Set.

Seized His Chance.

Miss Prim—In Siberia do they have reindeer? Mr. Nervey—Yes, but oftener they have snow, darling.—Cleveland Leader.

He who does not improve today will grow worse tomorrow.—German Proverb.

A Missing Five Franc Piece.

Fully half the grownup people of France believe the old story that Napoleon Bonaparte put a check for 100,000 francs in a silver five franc piece and that the coin is yet in circulation. They say that the people did not want the five franc piece and that in order to create a demand for it Napoleon resorted to the device mentioned. The check or treasury order, it is said, was written upon asbestus paper and inclosed in the metal at the time the coin was made. Thousands of five franc pieces are annually broken open and have been so inspected since the story of the check was first circulated.

A Remarkable Fortress.

In the northern part of Madagascar is the most remarkable natural fortress in the world. It is occupied by a wild tribe who call themselves the people of the rocks. The fortress is a lofty and precipitous rock of enormous size, 1,000 feet high and eight square miles in area. Its sides are so steep that it cannot be climbed without artificial means. Within it is hollow, and the only entrance is by a subterranean passage.

Origin of the Sidesaddle.

The use of the sidesaddle for women riders is traced to the time of Anne of Bohemia, eldest daughter of the emperor of Germany, who married Richard II. of England. Previous to this date all Englishwomen bestrode their horses man fashion, but on account of a deformity this German bride was forced to use a sidesaddle, and the custom became general.

Music as Medicine.

From the days of Saul and David music has no doubt been the means of alleviating, if not of actually curing, many serious cases of mental disease. Modern experience has proved this conclusively, and many instances may be quoted from ancient history.

Pythagoras commended music in the treatment of the insane, and Thales, when a pestilence ravaged Sparta, found in music his most powerful means of combating it. Henocrates soothed maniacs by it, and Theophrastus held that even the bites of venomous reptiles were rendered less fatal by subjecting the victims to the influence of melody.

When Philip of Spain was in a morbid and desponding condition, Farinelli, the vocalist, was sent for by the queen, with a party of musicians, to sing and play in the adjoining room. The effect was a speedy and rapid cure.

Both Buckman and Hafeland relate instances in which music has cured cases of St. Vitus' dance, and Becker and Schneider demonstrated practically its influence in different cases of hysteria.

The Conscientious Citizen.

"This conscience doth make cowards of us all," said the thoughtful and sanctimonious citizen as he stepped off a Druid Hill car.

"Yes?" said his friend.

"Now, if there's one thing I'm conscientious about it's about extravagance."

"Yes, I noticed that," murmured the friend.
